

Russian Defeat Is Overwhelming

EASTERN FRONT, NOT FRANCE MAY BE ULTIMATE GOAL FOR NORTH DAKOTA SOLDIER BOYS

CAMP IN CALIFORNIA

Orders Received by Colonel
White Last Night Indicate
Change in Plans

TWO REGIMENTS WILL GO TO SAME CANTONMENT

Not Believed First and Second
Will Be Separated—Fine
Concentration Point

That some point other than France may be the ultimate destination of North Dakota's state troops is indicated by a wire received from the war department last night by Colonel Frank White, commander of the Second regiment, directing him to report by wire to the commandant of the Western division, at Palo Alto, Cal., as soon as the inspection and muster of his regiment is completed.

The fact that North Dakota troops are to be concentrated on the Pacific coast is believed by local military men to be proof that they are to be used in the eastern war theater instead of the western, as heretofore anticipated. Some of the boys are wondering whether they will see Russia, which is as much an ally of America in this war as France and England, but the land of the great bear has been going it practically alone and it had not until now entered greatly into the thoughts of anyone when considering a field for the exploits of American troops in the European war zone.

Fine Camp.
Palo Alto is within eight miles of Leland Stanford university, in one of the most beautiful and picturesque sections of California, and is considered by military men one of the finest concentration camp sites in America. It is generally regarded, for northern troops, far superior to Deming, N. M., which, heretofore, has been considered as the concentration camp site for North Dakota.

Many Changes.
Some time ago North Dakota was detached from the Western department and attached to the Central. Later advice came that North Dakota was again with the Western, and still later it was a second time assigned to the Central. These most recent instructions, coming within a few weeks, if not days, prior to the departure of North Dakota troops for concentration camp, are regarded as final. And while none of the military men of the state care to be quoted on the subject, there is a general impression that the Western department will send its troops to some point other than France, where they may share in the campaign on the east front.

First Also.
Word was received this morning from Col. John I. Fraine of Orafton, commander of the First regiment, that instructions received by him were the same as those of Colonel White. It is not regarded as probable that the two North Dakota regiments will be separated, and before they leave American soil they may be brigaded by the addition of a Third regiment, made up of North Dakota's draft quotas.

GREECE LOOKS TO UNITED STATES SAYS VENIZELOS

Athens, Greece, July 26.—On the eve of the assembling of parliament Premier Venizelos received a correspondent of the Associated Press and made the following statement:

"The re-assembling of parliament, which was dismissed by the arbitrary action of Constantine, is a formal resumption of a democratic government at the rule of the people."

"We look to the United States for continuance of powerful support in working out our own destinies."

"Relations with the central powers have been broken and a state of war now actually exists as Greek troops are fighting against central powers in Macedonia. A formal declaration of war was made by the provisional government and it is unnecessary to renew it."

"The increase of the Greek army and co-operation with Serbia will restore the Balkan forces to their proper row of defenders of the integrity of the Balkans."

SUBMARINE IS ONE BIG ISSUE BEFORE AMERICA

Officers of Army and Navy Urge Attack on Germany's Naval Base at Once

Tonnage Destruction Goes on
With Mathematical Precision
Declare Experts

By H. N. RICKEY.

Washington, D. C., July 26.—It is doubtful if any allied statesman or military chief is ever quite free from the fear of the German submarines. When I speak of the allies, I of course, include America.

Month after month, since Feb. 1, these monsters of German frightfulness have continued to take their terrible toll of priceless ships and cargoes.

The complete figures of tonnage sent to the bottom during the fifth month, June, have not yet been given out either by Germany or Great Britain, but those who are best informed in this admit that it is more than likely that the infirmation from Berlin that June was one of the deadliest months is based on fact.

Whether or not the losses in June were over a million, as the Germans intimate, is relatively unimportant. The big, outstanding fact is that in spite of the concentrated efforts of the navies of the allied world, backed by the best thought and effort of their men of science, the submarine problem seems to be as insoluble today as it was on that fateful day nearly three years ago when the first German torpedo found its mark.

It is admitted the attempt to build ships as fast as the Germans sink them is a negative answer to the problem that could be done, which it is.

Assuming that the average of submarine sinking is as high during the next 12 months as it has been during the past five, the most optimistic calculation shows there will be at least five millions less tons of ships for the Atlantic trade July 1, 1918, than now.

This is a net loss of almost 25 percent and the calculation takes into account every new ship the allies possibly can launch during this period under the most favorable conditions.

When one considers that the tonnage available for the Atlantic trade is now so inadequate that freight rates have soared to unbelievable heights and when one considers further that building ships to replace torpedoes does not recover the millions of tons of food and munitions that go down with them, every ton of which is sorely needed in Europe, it is no wonder the submarine menace modifies every military calculation which America and her allies make.

You cannot discuss any phase of the great war for five minutes with any responsible American official or with any visiting official from our allies without getting on to the submarine question. And once the submarine is mentioned that ends the discussion, except about the submarine. I do not want to convey the idea that all of these officials or any of them think the situation is hopeless and that it is only a question of time when Germany will rule the seas with her submarines and force a German peace on us (see Three).

CITY HEALTH OFFICER MAKES RAID ON MEAT

Five Veal Carcasses in Unusual
Filthy Condition Confiscated
at Station

CONDITION IN CITY
BEST IN MANY YEARS

Dr. F. B. Strauss Plans Systematic
Crusade Against Impure Food

Five veal carcasses, infested with larvae and putrid with flies, in an unbelievably filthy and unsanitary condition, were confiscated at the offices of the Northern Express Co. yesterday by Dr. F. B. Strauss, city health officer. The carcasses were shipped from New Salem to a local meat market. Three of them were not protected in any way from heat, dirt and flies. Two were partially enclosed in sacks. When the shipment was unloaded here every carcass was black with flies. Dr. Strauss upon confiscating the entire lot found that the interior of the carcasses were literally white with the larvae of flies. A more disgusting, unwholesome, unhealthful mess, Dr. Strauss declares, has never come to his attention, and this veal was consigned to a Bismarck meat market and destined to find its way into Bismarck homes and Bismarck stomachs.

The veals were lined up on a rack, and Dr. Strauss made an effort to get a moving picture of the flies at work. F. Holmboe of the Publicity Film Co. was out of the city, however, and the best the health officer could obtain was a series of still pictures which are sufficiently vivid to convince anyone.

Only a Beginning

"This is only the beginning of a campaign which will continue until every Bismarck citizen may feel absolutely certain of clean meats, milk, fruit, vegetables and other food stuffs which are handled in the city," said Dr. Strauss today. "I have had certain meat markets under surveillance for some time. Conditions about local slaughter houses have been investigated and found unsatisfactory. Several loads of meat have been brought into town lately which, had I then felt certain of my ground, as I now do, would have been confiscated. Meat dealers have received orders to clean up their killing rooms and their shops. If these orders are not obeyed, both slaughterhouses and markets will be closed. This menace is not imaginary, but very real, and it demands immediate and stringent action."

Municipal Abattoir

"Much of the meat offered for sale here is never inspected, and it cannot be under the present system of slaughtering. I have recommended to the city commission the establishment of a municipal abattoir. I have made a careful investigation as to costs and other data, and I anticipate favorable action in the near future. This department really should have an inspector constantly on duty. Not only meat markets and groceries should be inspected frequently during this hot weather, but the inspection should extend to restaurants and hotel kitchens, boarding houses, soda fountains and other places where food is handled or prepared for human consumption."

General Health Good

"The general health of the city is the best in years," said the city health officer. "The month of July has been remarkably free from communicable diseases. Including a number brought in from out of town, but eight cases have been reported to this office. The city on the whole has never been cleaner; our streets and alleys have not been in a better condition in years. There are, however, a few slackers, a few who have not cut their weeds and cleaned up their premises, a few who do not seem to appreciate the terrible menace of filth-bred flies these torrid days when every little affliction is magnified many times, and for these the day of judgment is not far distant."

Complain of Sewage

Residents in the Riverview addition have complained of the emptying of sewage on the flats across the tracks. The situation has received immediate attention from the health officer. Dr. Strauss has no assistants and he prays the co-operation of the community generally. He is anxious to have reported to his office all cases requiring his attention, but he urges that matters which do not come within his jurisdiction and which can be corrected by personal effort be not reported upon a department already overburdened.

Dr. Strauss now is preparing a careful and complete report on the city water supply. He hopes within a few days to tell what is being done with the new chlorinating system, and to explain just what the chlorine gas treatment consists of and how it safeguards the city's health.

Without their knowledge, Bismarck water consumers have been drinking chlorinated water for several days. The water is tasteless and odorless under the new treatment and is guaranteed to be perfectly sterile of germ life. H. K. Davis of Chicago, sanitary engineer with Wallace & Kierman, a firm of world wide standing, had charge of the installation and is remaining in the city for a few days to make sure that the plant works satisfactorily.

Soldiers Working Side by Side
With Fratricide in Practice
Tactics

With the American Forces in France: July 26.—The first field casualty among the American forces occurred today. A soldier became too inquisitive in regard to a live French bomb among the supplies brought to camp for training purposes. He extracted the safety pin in some manner, and very soon thereafter a loud explosion occurred. Fortunately for the soldier, the bomb did not contain a charge of full strength, or he would have been blown to pieces. As it was, he escaped with the loss of his right hand.

At every vantage point near the camp men in khaki and men in blue could be seen today drilling and digging side by side. Field maneuvers were in progress in several places, while from more secluded spots came practice was being held, and on the battle of field guns. Musketry every hand was active which was most impressive.

The French and the American soldiers seemed to enjoy their association greatly. The French seemed to admire the attitude of their enthusiastic pupils.

Visits to the French front undoubtedly will be frequent in the future, in order that American officers may acquaint themselves with conditions of fighting on the front line in various phases including routine as well as the actual working out of offensive and defensive plans.

DIPLOMACY NOT ARMS TO WIN SAY GERMANS

ECONOMIC CONDITIONS NOT AS SERIOUS AS REPORTED

London, July 26.—Germany's dream of world conquest has been shattered in the belief among all classes there now is that the war must end through diplomacy rather than by a brilliant victory, according to the German prisoners in England.

A representative of the Associated Press, who has just returned here after a visit to the large internment camp at Dorchester, where approximately 1,900 German prisoners are quartered, is enabled to present many interesting sidelights on the German viewpoint as represented by them of all types who have fought with the German forces on land, sea, and in the air. These may be summarized as follows:

Germany, having held out thus far, is prepared to hold out to the end.

Not So Bad.

The economic situation in Germany is not so bad as has been represented, either by the belligerents or neutral press. Contrary to reports there is no visible shortage of materials actually needed for the prosecution of the war.

America's entry into the war will prolong rather than shorten it.

The United States, being essentially a commercial nation, she cannot make her great man-power felt soon enough to change the course of events.

Not Worried Over America.

The submarine are doing all that was expected of them.

There is a surprising lack of concern manifested by the prisoners because of the United States being arrayed against their country. The correspondent was allowed to mingle with them freely at times without any of the British officials in charge of the camp being present. A young German airman who was brought down recently on Dover, and who exhibited an iron cross, which he said he had won by many daring feats over the Anglo-French lines, seems to express the view of the more intelligent class of prisoners by asserting there had been many declarations of war against Germany when the United States entered in that any more did not matter.

THREATENS TO RESIGN.

Petrograd, July 26.—General Korniloff telegraphed from the Galician front to Premier Kerensky, it developed today, threatening to resign his command unless the government decided to reimpose the death penalty under the findings of field court martial.

London, July 26.—A dispatch to the Post from Petrograd says that under General Korniloff's drastic measures to restore order in the eleventh army one whole division thereof was blown to pieces by their own artillery to avenge the insults which all loyal troops and especially the artillery, have silently endured for the last four months from these traitorous recals.

Appalling Blow.

"An appalling blow," is the description of the Russian collapse given in a dispatch from Petrograd to the Post. Never in the war has Russia put on a field such an enormous army of British and French guns and gunners, flying machines, aviators and British armored cars were added to the unprecedented technical strength of the Russians themselves to make this particular front equal to anything.

The artillery was placed in natural, prepared positions. There were places where artillery lay not 200 yards from the enemy's trenches. Big guns were well placed. Information regarding the guns of the eleventh army almost staggers belief. It appears that the infantry shot down their own gunners in order to get their horses, or shot down the gun horses in revenge as they retreated, leaving practically all the artillery of the eleventh army in the enemy's hands.

Captured Equipment.

As far as the artillery and technical appliances of the seventh and eighth armies are concerned, there is also no hope of their being saved. The Germans already were a couple of days across the best road, on the shortest line of retreat. The rate of the enemy's advance on the western wing has accelerated and the gun positions are being attacked on the line by the Germans.

It is becoming an exceedingly anxious question whether the eighth army will succeed in getting away at all, but it is making the best haste eastward.

In an interview today, Premier Kerensky said the fundamental problem of the provisional government lay in providing for the immediate safety of the country and the revolution, whatever the cost might be. The government was determined to make a more resolute stand against anything which threatened the ruin of the state.

The premier stated that re-establishment of the death penalty on the front was necessary in view of the fact that the government was faced with the alternative of sacrificing the army to a body of traitors and cowards or having recourse to the only possible means of inspiring terror.

In Complete Agreement.

The provisional government, in complete agreement with the entire army, took the burden of the heavy responsibility, the premier explained, solely in order to save the lives of the heroes who were perishing in the execution of their duty for the fate of their country and to remove the reproach threatening the good name of Russia.

Restore Death Penalty.

The commander in chief and the commanders of the various armies at the front, having insisted that restoration of discipline in the army would necessitate the infliction of the death penalty, the government has agreed to restore capital punishment. The inquiry into the recent disorders here is being continued under the supervision of the public prosecutor. The authorities are taking measures to discover and to bring to justice all organizers and participants in the revolt.

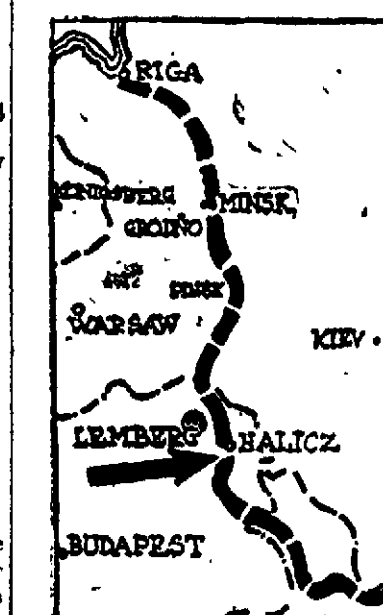

A telegram from Helsingfors says that the Russian warships Slava, Republika and Petropaulsk, which were involved in the recent defection of men in the Baltic fleet, have been recalled to favor in consequence of Premier Kerensky's order concerning the dissolution of the central committee of the Baltic fleet.

SITUATION SERIOUS.

Washington, D. C., July 26.—The Russian situation was acknowledged at the Russian embassy today to be intensely serious, but it was said to be not so critical as indicated by some reports. While the Galician army has suffered a setback it was pointed out that there is no indication that the

HOOVER HAS PLANS LAID FOR CONTROL

Excess Stocks of Potatoes to Be Carefully Preserved if
Bill Passes

By HARRY B. HUNT

Washington, D. C., July 26.—A hint of the efficiency methods that will be introduced into the handling of foodstuffs by Herbert Hoover's food or ganization, when congress finally gets through mulling over the food control bill and gives Hoover some authority to act, is shown in plans already worked out for taking care of the great potato crop.

Next to cereals, potatoes will be America's biggest crop. And next to wheat, potatoes are most needed for export to our allies and to our own soldiers in France.

Last spring everybody was abjured to plant potatoes, potatoes, potatoes! Backyards and front yards and vacant lots all over the country were turned into potato patches. The result is unless other than normal methods of handling the crop are provided a very large part of it will go to waste, although every potato is needed.

Already in the big early potato sections of Virginia and eastern Maryland thousands of bushels are being left to rot in the ground because local markets are glutted and transportation cannot be secured to outside markets.

Had the food bill been passed by July 1, this enormous waste could have been avoided. Hoover expects to be able to check it within a very short time after it is enacted.

As soon as the bill becomes law, the food administration will provide storage facilities in every center of potato production and will buy at good price any surplus growers may not be able to place immediately on the market or for which they cannot get transportation.

From these stocks the government will be able to equalize supply in all big cities, removing any excuse for inflated prices due to local manipulation or shortage. In cases where a particular market is glutted, with consequent danger of loss to grower or of wastage, the government will take up the surplus and thereby stabilize both supply and price.

Immediately on passage of the law steps will be taken to culm a number of large dehydrating or evaporating plants for potatoes. Excess stocks of potatoes will be put through these plants as rapidly as possible, relieving the demand on storage space and providing a potato product for export which will save millions of tons of shipping.

Potatoes contain 85 per cent water. With this water taken out the potato requires less shipping space, weighs less and will keep indefinitely better.

Out of each 1000 tons of potatoes for export to France we will first remove 850 tons of water. Only 150 tons of vessel space will be required instead of 1000 tons.

BIG ARTILLERY LOSS

Korniloff Taking Drastic Measures to Enforce Discipline
South and North of Armies

SEEM TO BE STANDING FIRM

London Silent Upon Status of Great-Beign Battle in Progress for Days

(By Associated Press.)

Such details of the Russian retreat in eastern Galicia as are now coming to hand do not tend to minimize the seriousness of the situation. Special dispatches report that the losses in heavy artillery will be tremendous, and express doubt as to the ability of the Russian eighth army to make good its retreat.

There is still an absence of assurances that the Russian commanders of the army taking part in the backward movement have succeeded in getting the refractory troops in hand. Indications are not wanting, however, that the process is well under way. There comes through Petrograd, for instance, the report that General Korniloff's drastic measures have included the blowing to pieces of an entire division of traitorous troops of the eleventh by its own artillery.

South Army Firm.

What may prove to be a saving feature of the situation is the firmness of the Russian armies, both to the north and south of the field of retreat. There has been no suggestion of any yielding tendencies of the Russian forces in Volhynia, just to the north of the effective sector, while to the south, the Russian troops are not only standing fast so far as they are able, but are co-operating with the Rumanians in a successful movement on the moldavian frontier.

London Silent.

London is silent today regarding the situation along the Franco-Belgian front. It is declared that one of the most violent artillery battles in history has been in progress in Belgium, even last night's supplementary statements emphasizing the continuance of this heavy firing. All that the British could give out today from that front, however, is to report a successful British raid near Armstede, adding that there was nothing else of special interest.

Although the British shipping losses increased slightly last week, the French admiralty is able to make the striking announcement that not a single French vessel fell victim to a submarine during that period. Six vessels were unsuccessfully attacked. The Italian report is also a favorable one, showing the loss of two steamers and damaging one small sailing vessel.

The persistence of the German attack in the Alsace region recalls in increasing measure the Crown Prince's Verdun offensive, except that the present drive lacks the success which attended the 1916 operation, in its earlier stages. After a brief lull a powerful attack was delivered last night on a front of nearly two miles to the easterly end of the Chemins des Dames between Hurlstaise and La Bovelie. The attack on Hurlstaise farm itself was broken up but further west certain elements of the French front line trenches were penetrated by the Germans at the price of tremendous losses.

In the Champagne there also was heavy fighting. German attacks following heavy bombardments on various parts of the front. Everywhere the Germans were repelled. Today's statement from Russian magnifies the results of Tuesday's and Wednesday's successes. The Rumanians and Russians captured more than 2,000 prisoners and 57 guns.

BEMIDJI GUARDS AGAINST I. W. W.

Bemidji, Minn., July 26.—The corps of deputies and citizens who maintained an all night vigil to guard against a return of the I. W. W. members deported late yesterday, found their presence at the railroad station sufficient to protect the town this morning. The exiles returning from Elora where they departed last night, made no effort to alight from the train which bore them through Bemidji today and kept right on going. They are supposed to be headed for Duluth where it was said another group was coming to join them. One arrest was made today. A man, who gave his last name as Osborne, was taken by police on suspicion of being connected with the I. W. W.

Death of Hugo Tureck Blow to Anamoose Community--
Scores Attend Funeral

Anamoose, N. D., July 26.—One of the largest funerals ever held in the village of Anamoose was that of Hugo Tureck, a prominent and well-to-do farmer who died at his home four miles southwest of Anamoose. Mr. Tureck had been ill for the last four years or more, but was always able to be about to attend to his farm duties. Last year he excavated the basement and built the concrete basement walls for his large modern farm home and also the foundation for his large barn which taxed his health considerably. This year he put forth the supreme effort by erecting and completing the buildings which are some of the largest and most modern as well as stylish set of farm buildings in this part of the state, costing not less than $10,000. The carpenters had just finished the work on the work on the interior of the house and all that was left was the finishing work for the painters and interior decorating and the house would have been ready for occupancy. But this was denied Mr. Tureck. He occupied his elaborate home only when his body remained therein until it was taken to its final resting place. Mr. Tureck was only 44 years old, yet he was the owner of one of the best farms in this part of the state.

land and the set of buildings just completed is the best in the state. He leaves a widow and two sons. His untimely death is a shock to the entire community. The funeral services were conducted at the Catholic church in charge of Father Janku. Interment was made in the local cemetery of that church.

SUICIDES WHEN WIFE WOULDN'T MAKE UP AGAIN

Bowman Man Whose Helpmeet
Had Twice Married Him
Wouldn't Try Again

Bowman, N. D., July 26.—When his wife, whom he brought here from home at Elizabethtown, N. C., on the strength of a wife falsely reporting the serious illness of her mother, declined to consider a reconciliation after several years' separation, Philip Smith committed suicide by firing a revolver bullet into his brain. Before taking his life, he wrote his wife a pathetic farewell note, which he tucked into a pocket of her apron, hanging near where his body was found. Smith married Miss Hanson several years ago in Portland. Later, convicted of forgery and sentenced to the penitentiary, his wife divorced him, but after his release remarried him, leaving him last March to attend normal school at Portland with a view to fitting himself for teaching.

MINOT PLAYERS STRIKE FOR PAY AND MANAGER PROVES REAL MAGICIAN

Minot, N. D., July 26.—Minot came very near not having its recent game with Williston. At the eleventh hour six players went on a strike and refused to work until they received overdue salaries. Earlier in the week they had received checks, but had been unable to cash them. This time they demanded real money, and the manager, rather than take chances with several hundred irate fans, marched the men to a bank just before closing time and doled out the hard cash to them.

SLOPE WOULD SECEDE FROM STATE SUNDAY SCHOOL ASSOCIATION

President Covell of Inter-County
Organization Urges Withdrawal

Bowman, N. D., July 26.—President Covell of the Bowman and Slope Counties' Sunday School Association created something of a sensation when in presenting his annual report at the convention here he earnestly urged the withdrawal of all Sunday schools in the western part of the state from the North Dakota Sunday School association and the organization of a new unit to be known as the Western North Dakota Sunday School association. President Covell charged that although the association is paying for county work, not a penny is being spent here. He also objected to the fact that the annual conventions are held in Fargo, Grand Forks, Bismarck, Minot and Devils Lake, and never in Slope or Bowman county towns. Resolutions embodying his recommendations were unanimously adopted at the close of the meeting. The only reason that the state Sunday school convention has rotated among the larger towns is that none other have accommodations for the 1,200 to 1,500 delegates who attend these annual sessions. State officers contend that an effort has been made to be fair to every section of the state by holding conventions in every district which has a city with sufficient hotel and housing accommodations to care for the crowds.

EDWARDS TELLS OF NATIONAL EDUCATION ASSOCIATION MEET

Jamestown, N. D., July 26.—E. R. Edwards of the state department of education addressed the students of the summer school at Jamestown college this week on the recent meeting of the National Educational association at Portland, Ore. He presented the chief features of the program, enumerated the ideas emphasized and summarized the principal addresses. A visitor at the meeting could not fail, he said, to find that the controlling idea of the meeting of this great association had to do with patriotism and with the holding for the youth of our land all gains already attained. Another conspicuous fact was the large attendance of women at the association. Several things contributed to bring this about. One is the strength of suffrage on the coast. He was convinced that the part played by women at the meeting in no way detracted from the force of the argument in favor of extension of her rights.

"Less Than Dust" Big Screen Feature Shown at Auditorium Theatre Is Season's Success

Everybody looked at each other and wondered when they read that real trees of ponderous weight and great leafy limbs were to be pulled up by the roots and brought across the seas and planted in California to make realism complete at the exposition. And people around New York who go motoring and commuting and just visiting along the beautiful north shore of Long Island, have wondered too, for Mary Pickford built in the green meadows and along the water a real city of far away India, exact in architecture and size and peopled with a cosmopolitan crowd that was genuine in making the scenes for "Less Than Dust." In which she is seen at the Auditorium tonight, Mary Pickford and Director John Emerson left nothing undone to make the big scenes replete with atmosphere and effective realism. The winding street with its curious sloping roofs, its little bazaars and shops is a direct copy of a painting in the British museum. Not only have the buildings been made real in every detail, but they were peopled with genuine natives, more than a hundred real East Indian natives and splendid types being employed. No more effective scene was ever placed before a camera. Hundreds of people from New York went out to see it and this and the other scenery and effects erected on the field near Whitestone became at once one of the real sights of the north shore. "Less Than Dust" Big Screen Feature Shown at Auditorium Theatre Is Season's Success

Everybody looked at each other and wondered when they read that real trees of ponderous weight and great leafy limbs were to be pulled up by the roots and brought across the seas and planted in California to make realism complete at the exposition. And people around New York who go motoring and commuting and just visiting along the beautiful north shore of Long Island, have wondered too, for Mary Pickford built in the green meadows and along the water a real city of far away India, exact in architecture and size and peopled with a cosmopolitan crowd that was genuine in making the scenes for "Less Than Dust." In which she is seen at the Auditorium tonight, Mary Pickford and Director John Emerson left nothing undone to make the big scenes replete with atmosphere and effective realism. The winding street with its curious sloping roofs, its little bazaars and shops is a direct copy of a painting in the British museum. Not only have the buildings been made real in every detail, but they were peopled with genuine natives, more than a hundred

STATE MAY NOT GO IN FOR TAG PLANT AT PEN

Exorbitant Cost of Machinery at Present Probably Will Defer
Action on Plan

MANUFACTURING END OF PROPOSITION IS SOUND

Because of the exorbitant price of machinery of all kinds, it is probable that on recommendation of Secretary of State Hall the state board of control will not for the present consider the installation at the state penitentiary of a plant for the manufacture of automobile and motorcycle tags, road signs and similar sheet metal devices which are or may be handled by the state.

The project has been under consideration for some time, the recommendation coming originally from Secretary of State Hall. Because of the rapid development of the automobile, the few manufacturers who produce license tags have found it impossible to supply the demand. The manufacturer from whom the state has been buying recently suggested that North Dakota engage in the manufacture of its own tags by installing a plant at the prison.

Building Available
An old building and stack erected originally as an incinerator but never found satisfactory for that purpose was considered as quarters for the proposed plant, and it was found that the operation of the tag factory would require the services of six men about two months during the winter and of only two men for a short time during the summer, when the demand would be light.

The secretary of state on his return from Fargo today cast cold water on the plans with his report that a plant would cost approximately $34,000 at the present price of machinery. It had been estimated that this original expense would not exceed $2,000, which probably would be a reasonable maximum for any but war times. The plant, even at a cost of $9,000, would pay for itself with two years' output. It is claimed, but the state has so little ready money in any fund available for this purpose that the board of control this morning was not inclined to regard the scheme with favor.

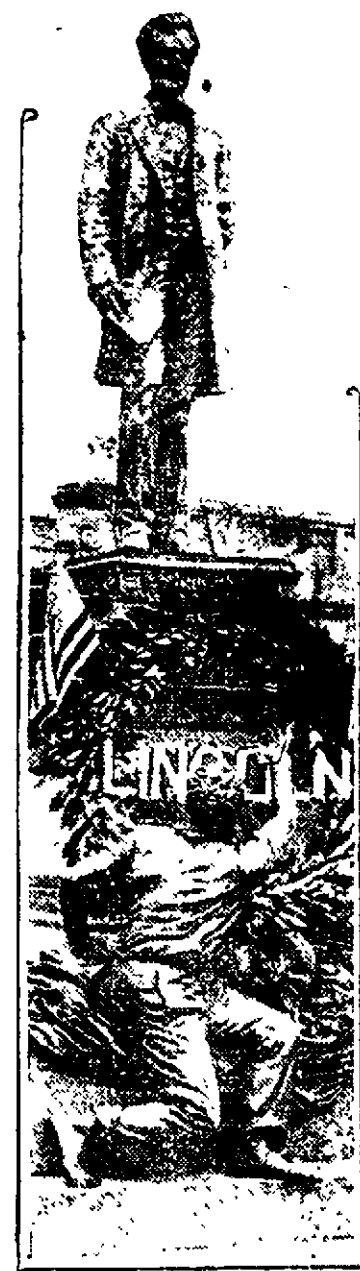

North Dakota will use more than 60,000 tags this year. Next year the number will be probably 10,000 greater. The state's investment in tags up to July 1, this year was more than $8,000, upon which it is reasonable to estimate a profit of about $7,000 for the manufacturer. With the same machinery used to stamp and enamel license tags, highway signs and other sheet metal work could be turned out. Little power would be required to operate the plant, and a good profit might reasonably be expected.

peace on the world. But it is certainly well within the facts to say that a solution of the submarine problem is now held to be of paramount importance from the standpoint of allied strategy, and important as is the building of ships at least partly to make up for those torpedoed, this alone will not solve the problem. A way must be found either to protect cargo ships from torpedoes, and this save both ships and cargoes, sink submarines faster than the Germans can build them or destroy or blockade the submarine bases.

Among the officers of the American navy, especially the younger and more daring ones, the conviction is growing that sooner or later there must be an attack on the German submarine bases by the combined allied navies. What the chances for success of such an attack would be is, of course, more or less of a guess, but there are a growing number of naval officers who are willing to hazard their lives and their reputations in the enterprise. They admit it would be costly in both ships and men even if successful, but they argue that if such a victory could be accomplished it would end the war and therefore would be cheap, however great the cost.

SCOTS HONOR LINCOLN

Impressive tribute was paid the memory of Lincoln on Independence Day at the statue of the Great Emancipator erected in Edinburgh, Scotland, in memory of the Scotch Americans who gave their lives for liberty in the Civil War. The photo shows the monument decorated with wreaths and flags of America and Scotland. This is the only statue of Lincoln in the United Kingdom.

It is not conceivable that even if the attack failed the allies would lose enough capital ships to give the German high seas fleet a chance to defeat those left in a sea fight.

The allies could lose half their big ships, and still be strong enough to control the seas against the German fleet. That this plan, fraught as it is with such tremendous possibilities, not only is being urged by more daring naval officers, but is being seriously considered by the highest officials, is an indication of how grave the submarine menace is known to be.

GENERAL FRASER AWAITING COMING OF MASTER LIST

Doubt as to Whether Key Numbers Are to Be Distributed

From Local Office
INSPECTION OF FIELD AND STAFF ON TODAY

The adjutant general's office is awaiting the arrival of master lists of draft numbers mailed from Washington on Tuesday and which should reach the capital today. Whether these lists are to be furnished each individual county board direct or all sent to the capital for distribution cannot be determined until advices are received from Washington.

Changes in Boards.
Changes are being made daily in the personnel of the county exemption boards. Franz Schubert has succeeded on the McIntosh county board Auditor John Hildebrand, who objected to serving because he had relatives in every registration precinct in the county. Dr. Fred Brown of McClusky has replaced Dr. Reynolds of Goodrich, who cannot serve because of a broken arm. Dr. M. Mizner substitutes in Slope county for Dr. Strubling, who is out of the state.

In Walsh county both the sheriff and county physician are under 31, and must be replaced. The same is true of the auditor in Sargent county and of various other members of county boards scattered throughout the state.

Dr. Deason of Pembina, on the exemption board as county physician, is under 31, and will be supplanted for that reason. In Walsh county Dr. Suter, Countryman, Ross Glaspel and Whyte, the last named being superintendent of the home for the feeble-minded, have been recommended to replace the county physician, who is disqualified. W. J. Hoover, superintendent of schools, is suggested as a successor to the Walsh county sheriff.

Inspection On.
Today the inspection of field and staff officers of the Second regiment is in progress here. Capt. F. A. Cook, U. S. infantry, being the inspecting officer. His recommendations as to the acceptance or rejection of any of these officers, who include Colonel Frank White of Valley City, Capt. C. T. H. Tharason of Grafton, Majors Charles F. Mudgett of Valley City and E. C. Jeary of Fargo, Captain Adjutant H. T. Murphy of Bismarck, and Battalion Adjutants F. C. Neumann, Bismarck, Ernest A. Orchard, Fargo, and Ronald S. Macdonald, Valley City, will be subject to the approval of the war department. Major J. M. Hanley of Mandan, commander of the Third battalion, is in Washington on judicial business, and cannot be here for inspection.

Captain Cook, while here, also inspects the headquarters company, commanded by Captain H. T. Murphy, and Co. I, in command of Capt. A. B. Welch.

New Commissions.
New commissions in the Second were issued by Governor Frazier yesterday to George W. Sears, to be first lieutenant, and James E. Huffman, to be second lieutenant of infantry, and to Dr. John A. Kasper of Mandan to be first lieutenant of the dental corps, succeeding Dr. C. C. Hubbs of Bismarck, who was commissioned, but is unable to serve.

HOVER HAS PLANS LAID FOR CONTROL and the 850 tons of water can be put back in again when the potatoes are prepared for eating in France.

These dehydrated potatoes lose none of their nutritious or edible qualities in the process. Sweet potatoes, of which the south promises a great harvest, will be handled in the same way. Many other vegetable crops may be preserved similarly. All that is lacking to start the wheels of Hoover's big food regulating machine is a final vote by congress. Till that comes his hands are tied and manipulation, unstable prices and waste will continue.

GRANT INCREASES

CANDIDATES FOR AVIATION BRANCH ARE PUT THROUGH A GRUELLING EXAMINATION

By BASIL M. MANLY.
Washington, D. C., July 26—"Good morning! How are your semi-circular canals?"

You may not know you have any, but if you have any idea of flying for Uncle Sam, your will shortly soon find out the semi-circular canals are the most important part of your anatomy. The man whose semi-circular canals are not perfect has no chance of becoming an aviator.

The semi-circular canals are the human equilibrium apparatus. Without them you could not walk, you could not even stand up. You would be wobbly on all fours. The reason you tack all over the highway when you get "three-shots-in-the-wind," is not that there's anything really wrong with your legs, but simply that the booze has upset the workings of the semi-circular canals which control your balance.

These little equilibrium adjusters are part of the structure of the inner ear. They are like three tiny spirit-levels, lying in three different planes, practically at right angles to each other. They are all connected through channels and are filled with a peculiar kind of lymph. Just as the bubble in a spirit-level tells the eye the angle of the level, so the movement of the lymph in these canals sends a message to the brain whenever your head changes position.

If not working right they may send the wrong message to the brain or they may not send it quick enough. When you are flying, where balance is of supreme importance and where action must be quicker than thought, any imperfection in the SCCs would be fatal.

That is why in testing applicants for the aviation corps more attention is paid these tiny organs than to all the rest of the body.

Here's a little inside tip for prospective aviators. One question the examining surgeon asks is, "Have you ever been sea-sick?" Most applicants apparently think admission of sea-sickness might disqualify them, so they take liberties with the truth and answer, "No."

But it's wrong and puts the applicant under suspicion. Surgeons know every man whose semi-circular canals are in good condition is sure to have been sea-sick if he has had the chance, unless he just happens to have an iron clad stomach that simply can't be turned inside out. So if you are up for aviation examination and strike this question, don't try to play foxy, if you've been sea-sick say so.

FANS LOOKING FORWARD TO OPENING OF SERIES WITH RIVALS TOMORROW

More Interest Than Ever Before
Exhibited in Baseball
Shown in Games

With only a few hours to wait, Bismarck and Slope fans generally are doing their best to contain themselves in patience until the opening of the big three-game series with New Rockford at the Athletic Club grounds near the state house tomorrow. Baseball devotees have shown more interest in this series than any matches ever scheduled for the Capital City, and there is promise of the biggest attendance that ever has crowded into a baseball park here.

Fans tomorrow afternoon and Saturday will have the benefit of the capital street railway line in traveling to and from the grounds. The car will deliver patrons at the capital, within a few rods of the park gate.

To New Rockford.
After the series here, ending Sunday afternoon, the quartet goes to New Rockford for two games, and then the two teams go to Fessenden on a three days' barnstorming exhibition for a purse of $100. The teams are being billed as the stellar attraction of the Wells county fair at Fessenden, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of next week.

depression has spread throughout the whole army. Official reports are lacking, but it is pointed out that a defection in one regiment alone in any position, might require a general retreat.

At present the embassy believes the trouble is confined to the Galician army alone. Dispatches to the embassy say the Russians in the Carpathians still were advancing, and had captured 19 guns, several villages, and several hundred prisoners. Similarly the troops on the front just north of the Galician front are reported to have captured 50 machine guns, 2,000 German prisoners, and much war material. The forces involved are largely Serbians.

"To see that the people of the nation have a sufficient quantity of food. To see that they do not eat to excess and that they stop waste. To reduce the consumption of staple foods so that a larger amount may go to our allies in Europe. To increase the use of vegetables and perishable foods where they are produced."

WAR

Severe Strain on the Strength of the Children.

War imposes a severe strain upon childhood.

Europe's experience indicates how great is the problem of maintaining educational and working standards for little children to the end that the nation's fibre and vitality shall not be impaired.

Sir James Yoxall, M. P., estimates that in England from 150,000 to 200,000 children between the ages of 11 and 13 have been released from school to go to work.

Commenting upon child labor in manufacturing war supplies, the health of munition workers' committee, appointed by the British minister of munitions, says: "Boys and girls need a sufficient reserve not only for the maintenance of health, but for growth. Long hours of work by day or by night, often coupled with unsatisfactory conditions of housing and transit, late hours and lack of paternal care, make the dangers grave and immediate."

Our duty in the United States was emphasized by Owen R. Lovejoy, general secretary of the national child labor committee, in a recent address, when he said:

"The childhood of the present generation will suffer irreparable loss unless those of us who have dedicated ourselves to the protection of these defenseless ones keep our heads clear and our motives unimpaired, determining that whatever happens all other treasure, all other forms of wealth, all other methods of defense, shall be sacrificed before we compel the children of America to pass through the fire."

From Washburn—Hon. John E. Williams of Washburn, former representative from McLean county and state's attorney, is in the city on legal business.

Congratulates Bismarck—Senator McCumber has written a letter to George N. Keniston, secretary of the commercial club, congratulating the city upon its showing in the recent Red Cross campaign.

Invites Lodge—George N. Keniston, secretary of the Commercial club, has invited the Grand Lodge of the Knights of Pythias to hold its next convention in Bismarck. The lodge is meeting in Williston this week.

Good Business—Miss Ida Mae Fisk, sister of Judge Fisk, who two years ago left for Redwood Falls, Minn., where she has since been conducting a millinery business, writes friends that she is doing well and enjoying the work greatly.

Visits Brother—Barney Wilcox, brother of Peter Wilcox of this city, visited him by surprise on Tuesday. Barney Wilcox, who was a resident of Bismarck 21 years ago, is now located in Lake Lac Bischo, Alberta, Can., and was making a trip to Edmonton when he received the news that his brother had been sick.

Plowing 'Em Under—Jacob Reider of Anamosa, former custodian of the state capital, who is in the city for a visit with friends is one of the unfortunate in McHenry county who will not have a good crop this year. He reports that he is plowing his wheat under. Conditions there are elsewhere in the state are spotty, and the crop failure in McHenry is by no means general.

In the last named city she was a guest of Miss Mary Hauser, a former classmate of the Bismarck high school.

LANGER DRAWN
Attorney General William S. Langer is reported to be among the candidates for selective service drawn in Morton county. As a state official, he is constitutionally exempt from service. NATIONAL BREAD ECONOMY

SHARING GRAIN WITH CATTLE

By Helen Louise Johnson.

Author and lecturer on home economics, formerly chairman home economic committee National Federation Women's Clubs.

THERE has been much talk about War Bread and the complete exhaustion of the grain, or the using of entire wheat flour for all bread making. In this connection I want to make these points quite clear to you. First, that flour, made from the entire grain, has not been proved to be a more nutritious food than white flour, for this reason: Our bodies are nourished by what we absorb, not by what we swallow. There is a larger proportion of gluten, and slightly so of mineral salts in whole wheat as compared with white flour, but this is balanced by the greater waste of the former. We digest white bread more completely, therefore it yields as much to the body as the whole wheat bread, which is useful where bulk or waste product is desired.

The second point is that the experts sent to Europe to watch and study food conditions there now say that Germany made a great mistake in using the entire grain as food for men. As now used in this country, the extraction of the grain for white flour is not complete, and the residue is sold as food for cattle. It should be plain to every one that food for cattle, especially to keep dairy herds intact and giving a full quota of milk, is a prime necessity. Milk is the food of babies and children, and it is one of the cheap and good sources of different greatly needed foods. We must not deplete or lower the quantity or quality of the milk supply.

Let us learn to use cornmeal, rye and other flours in many different ways in our own kitchens. This is a necessity that the demand on flour shall be lessened but do not let us urge or permit legislation which might give opportunity for a positive depletion of nutritive quality. Particular let us know what we are about, and talk as well as we can intelligently. In this connection let me further say that I believe it is yet unproved whether it is cheaper and better for all families to make instead of buy bread. It depends both upon the kind of bread you can buy, and the kind you can make. It depends upon the number in your family, and the kind of flour you use and its cost. It depends upon how you use and waste bread. In this particular crisis it would seem a very proper study for the Home Economics Departments of the colleges to carry on a survey and determine under what circumstances it was better and cheaper to buy than to make bread, or make rather than buy it. I do not believe either the Department of Agriculture or any other Department has sufficient established data to make a claim either way as yet.

Bread Jelly.
2 cupfuls broken bits dried white, sweet, or white and whole wheat bread, mixed, 1/2 teaspoonful nutmeg juice and grated 1/2 lemon, 2 1/2 cupfuls boiling water, 1/2 teaspoonful salt, 1/4 cupful sugar.
Simmer together the bread, water and salt until it is thoroughly blended, stirring with a wire whisk; it will take about 20 minutes. Then add the sugar and nutmeg and when tepid the lemons. Turn into moulds rinsed with cold water, let stand till firm, and serve with cream or milk and sugar, with any kind of fruit sauce, or with stewed fruit. If desired quartered dates, halved raisins, bits of figs, or some chopped nut meats may be added to the mixture when it is taken from the heat.

Egless Bread Pudding.
1 cupful ground bread crumbs, any kind, 1 1/2 cupful boiling water, 1 cupful mixed fruits, raisins, dates, etc., 1/2 teaspoonful salt, 3 cupfuls milk, 1/4 cupful brown sugar or corn syrup, 1 teaspoonful mixed spice or the grated rind of 1/4 orange.
Pour the boiling water over the crumbs, add the other ingredients in the order given and bake in a moderate oven till firm and brown, about an hour. Serve with cream or milk, or with an orange sauce.

AUTO TRIP TO

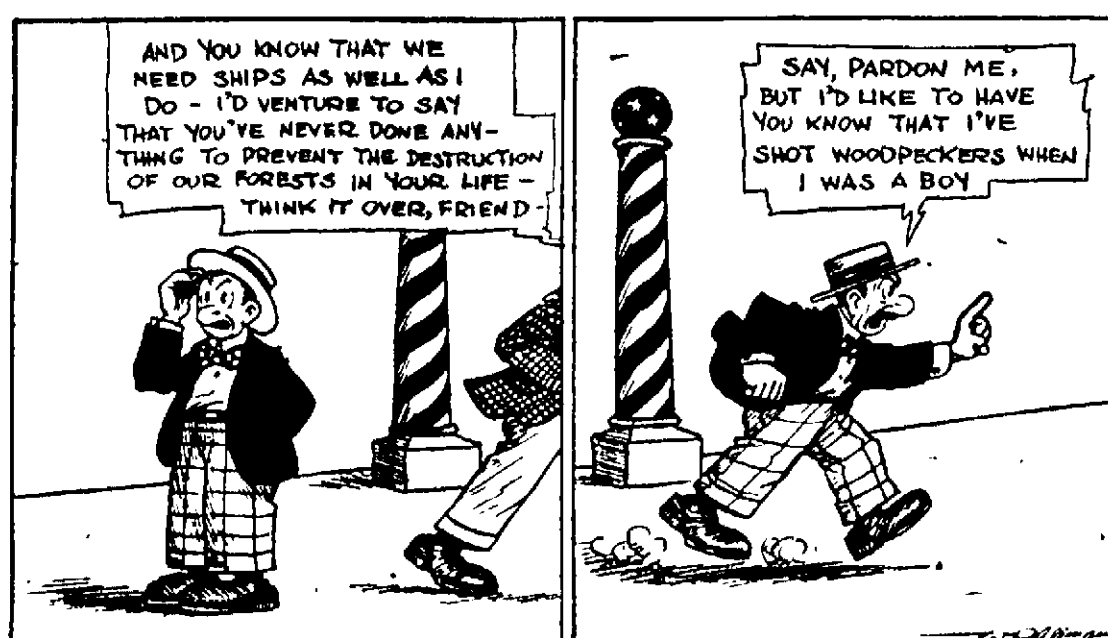

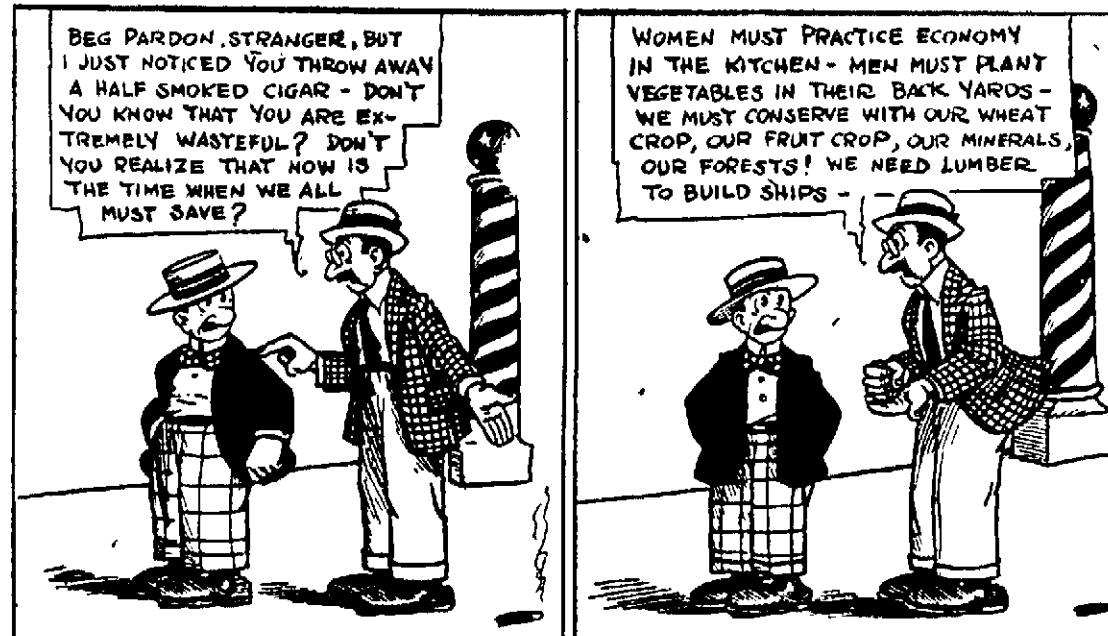

On invitation from J. H. Sleight the following parties accompanied him last Sunday in his auto to Bismarck and Fort Lincoln: W. R. Baily, Wm. Niles, Jr., D. M. Paul.
The day dawned ideal, and after breakfast at the Sleight home the start was made at 7:50, the run being made in less than two hours, which was some speed considering the bad stretches of road encountered, which were more numerous in Burleigh than in Kidder county, due to recent grading and graveling.
After an early dinner the party autoed out to Lincoln barracks, where a couple of hours were most pleasantly spent visiting with numerous acquaintances among the boys. W. R. Baily knew a majority of Company H boys from Jamestown and a few from Medina. L. Brown, who emigrated from Tappen, was in this company, and was greatly pleased to see the Tappen party.
The quarters are all substantial brick structures on the outer side of a shaded driveway, encircling a spacious parade and drill grounds. The buildings all have the latest modern equipment for the comfort of the khaki boys, and all expressed themselves as well satisfied with the general conditions. They are a live bunch as was noticed from their indulgence in various forms of sportive amusements.

The party then repaired to the ball park where they witnessed two fast games of ball between the Bismarck and McClusky teams.
At 6:45 they had the pleasure of seeing the four companies on dress parade and retreat. They have their own battalion band, which furnishes music during drill practice. It is a most inviting place, and one tending not to discourage a new recruit—Tappen Journal.

Removing Paint From Doorstep.
Paint spilt on a doorstep is often difficult to remove. In that case make a strong solution of potash, and wash the step, leaving the solution to soak in. In a short time the paint will become soft and can be washed off with soap and water. Even paint which has been left on for some time will yield to this treatment.

POLLYANNA BILLED FOR AUDITORIUM

"Pollyanna," the great "be glad" play that caused so much comment when played in New York will appear at the Bismarck auditorium. Oct. 16 Manager Vesperman announced the attraction today as positively booked for that date.
The theatrical season for Bismarck promises to be good this year. There are many fine attractions either booked or contracts are pending. Mr. Vesperman has been in close touch with the best booking agencies and the usual successful season is anticipated.
"Very Good Eddie" is the next show billed for August 21. It comes well recommended and critics everywhere commented favorably upon the production.

SEEMINGLY UNIMPORTANT RULING WILL MEAN MUCH

Planking of Railway Crossings Four Feet Wider to Save Many Binders

A seemingly unimportant ruling announced by the railway commission yesterday is really of vast importance in the expedition of North Dakota's grain harvest. Heretofore railway companies have made a common practice of planking crossings only sixteen feet wide. The tread of the average binder requires a 20-foot right-of-way. The railway commission's ruling is that all crossings hereafter built, or renewed shall be 20 feet wide. Secretary J. H. Calverhead states that many of the repairs found necessary to binders and mowers have been caused by the jolting of the machines over railway crossings which were not planked wide enough to give a clear passage.

HOGGART COMPANY GETS BISMARCK CONTRACTS

The city commission in a very brief—and warm—session last evening awarded the contract for the Broadway sewer, to cost approximately $6,000, to the Haggart Construction Co. of Fargo, and this company's bid on the rebuilding of the Third street sanitary sewer, between Thayer and Rosser, to cost approximately $11,000, also was accepted.
In response to complaints of Richard Penwarden and others to dust and odors from the Ford Paving Co.'s operations at the asphalt plant on Broadway east, the commission advised that a street sprinkler would be placed in commission there, and Manager McCutcheon would be asked to do what he could to subdue the stench.
The usual grist of bills was approved and ordered paid.

The total mileage of the five Unlontown contests, in which Fetterman has driven the Peerless Eight, amounted to 414 1/2 miles. The first was 50 miles, the next three were 112 1/2 miles each and the fifth was the Australian pursuit race of 27 miles. The whole 414 1/2 miles of terrific driving were made without a single stop for mechanical assistance; without a cylinder missing and without the powerful motor ever becoming over-heated. Furthermore, the last race of 112 1/2 miles was run on gasoline at an average of 30 miles a gallon—approximately 16 miles to the gallon—a remarkable record for a heavy car.

Bush to fall back on. "Bullet" Joe worked hard, so hard, in fact, that he has put himself out of commission and the case of the Athletics now seems hopeless. Bush is not only one of the greatest of pitchers, he is one of the outstanding figures of baseball because of his loyalty to Mack. He is more than Mack's pitching staff and right-hand man.

When Connie Mack promised the fans that he would get into the American league pennant race this year, he based his statement on the belief that some of his new pitchers would come through. Myers, Nabors and others gave signs of this last season, but their failure has been absolute. The result was that Mack was left with only Joe

AEROS SPUR RECRUITING FOR UNCLE SAM

The airplane is the latest instrument adopted by the officers of Uncle Sam's navy to aid them in their recruiting work. Daily in some sections of the country an airplane has been seen speeding over the outlying districts, occasionally dropping to earth where groups of farmer folk are seen. Here pamphlets and other literature are scattered. Follow the machine and you will see it drop gently to earth in some small town or village. The officer alights and gathering his audience about him, he talks of the navy and the duty of its hearers to their country.

AUTOS BY THE MILLION

Gain of 43 Per Cent Shown in United States in One Year.

Total of 3,512,996 Cars Registered in 1916, From Which States Receive $25,865,369 in Revenue.

In 1916 there were 1,067,332 more motorcars registered in the United States than in 1915. This was an increase of 43 per cent. The gross total of registered cars, including commercial cars, was 3,512,996; the number of motorcycles registered was 250,820. The several states collected in registration and license fees, including those of chauffeurs and operators, a total gross revenue of $25,865,369.75. Of this amount 92 per cent, or $23,910,811, was applied directly to construction, improvement, or maintenance of the public roads in 43 states, according to figures compiled by the office of public roads of the United States department of agriculture.

The figures for 1916 correspond very closely with the annual percentage increase of motorcar registration in the last three years. This yearly increase has averaged 40 per cent in the number of cars and 50 per cent in revenues. When viewed over a period of years, the increase in motorcar registration and gross revenue, as shown by Uncle Sam's figures, has been remarkable. In 1903 the total state registrations were approximately 48,000 cars on account of which the several states collected in fees and licenses a total gross revenue of about $2,000,000. As a small part of this was applied to road work. In 1915 the $25,865,369.75 collected formed nearly 9 per cent of the total rural road and bridge revenues of the states. Recent years have shown an increase ing tendency to put the spending of the motorcar revenues directly in the hands of the state highway departments. Of the total amount applied to road work in 1916, 70 per cent, or $16,411,520, was expended more or less directly under the control or supervision of state highway departments. Only 13 states did not exercise any direct control over the expending of the net automobile revenues.

ONE FAILURE OF ELECTRICITY

Prophecy That It Might Be Used by Prospectors to Locate Ore Bodies, Is Not Fulfilled.

The marvelous accomplishments of electric science have far surpassed anything that men would have dared to predict in the early days of its development, yet, point out experts of Uncle Sam's geological survey, certain prophecies in regard to it have remained unfulfilled. Among these are the suggestions of some geologists that electric phenomena might play an important part in the formation of ore deposits and that electric methods might be utilized in prospecting for ore bodies.

Both of these suggestions, it is pointed out by experts of the survey, in the light of the growing knowledge of ore deposits and of electric science, appear to be illusions. It is now clear that the great causes of ore formation are not electric in the ordinary sense and that the electric currents generated in ore deposits are far too small to aid a prospector in discovering ore by their influence on any kind of electric apparatus held in his hand. If, however, say the experts, electricity is denied a large part in the formation of ore deposits, its effect cannot be excluded entirely. It is well known that many of the ore reactions are capable of developing measurable electric currents, and should therefore be expected, it is said, that in places where chemical action is in

MINOT PEOPLE MUST TALK IS AMIDON'S FIAT

Federal Judge Declares Witnesses Cannot Refuse to Tell What They Know

GRAND JURY MAY LOOK INTO BOWMAN SITUATION

Fargo, N. D., July 26.—A witness before a federal grand jury can not claim privilege and refuse to answer any and all questions put to him in an effort to discover violations of the law.

A ruling to this effect, setting a precedent important in all the federal courts of the nation, was made by District Judge C. F. Amidon in the federal court at Fargo yesterday.

The point came up in the hearings before the grand jury in the effort to determine whether federal laws had been violated at Minot in the raids and prosecutions carried on by Attorney General William Langer of North Dakota.

Sixty witnesses called.

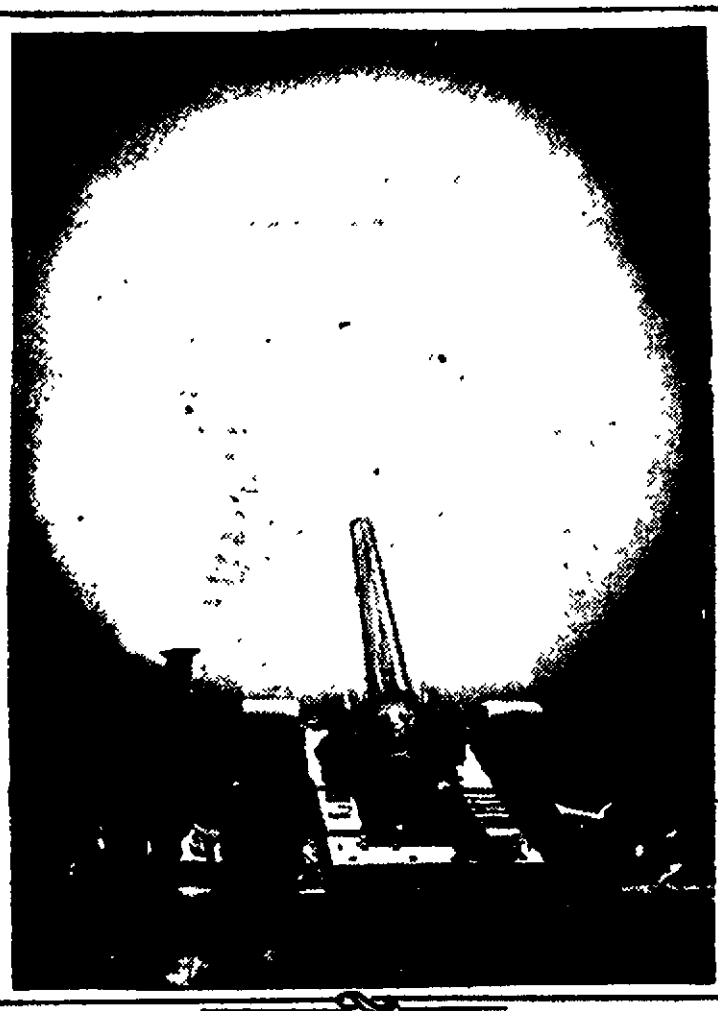

Attorney General Langer and his assistant, Dan V. Brennan, discovered what they believed to be evidence of violation of federal laws in the manner in which shipments of liquor into Minot had been handled. They communicated with District Attorney M. A. Hildreth at Fargo with the result that more than 60 witnesses were subpoenaed to appear before the grand jury, the number including Mayor Shaw of Minot, employees of the Soo and Great Northern railroads, and other prominent citizens, some of them officers and members of clubs where liquor is said to have been sold in violation of state laws.

Bowman Case Up.

Investigation by the federal grand jury now in session in Fargo, of charges made in the United States senate this week by United States Senator Porter J. McCumber, affecting the loyalty to the United States government of the postmistress at Bowman, N. D., Mrs. Lillian Totten, wife of E. P. Totten, is under way, it was announced late Tuesday afternoon.

Likewise, investigation of the charges made by Senator McCumber

FARGO'S WATER SUPPLY IS PROVING INADEQUATE

Fargo, N. D., July 26.—The present dry spell is causing heavy demands for water in the city, owing to the heavy sprinkling of lawns and war gardens. Commissioner of Waterworks R. B. Blakemore reports the waterworks is feeling the strain and at times is run nearly to capacity.

"While this plant was large enough a few years ago to take care of every use the water might be put to, Fargo is rapidly overtaking this capacity, and it is only a matter of a short time until the present waterworks must be increased. Even now the excessive demand on the plant, caused by the dry weather, ditch tampering, construction work and the interstate fair is crowding the capacity and the commissioner is asking for the public's co-operation for the city's safety."

In a communication to the public yesterday, Mr. Blakemore said:

"Owing to the excessive demand temporarily made upon the water plant during the hot weather for lawns and street sprinkling, ditch tamping, construction work, the interstate fair, etc., and the physical limitations of the present equipment, I would respectfully ask our citizens to co-operate as fully as possible with the water department."

"I would therefore ask that the residents south of the Northern Pacific railroad tracks sprinkle their lawns only between the hours of 8 and 11 in the morning and evening and those on the north side between 5 and 8, morning and night. At the first sound of the fire alarm all should stop sprinkling until the return alarm sounds."

RAILWAYS ASKING RELIEF FROM ALL NEEDLESS BURDEN

Declare Emergency Imposes Upon Them Severe Strain Without Construction Work

WOULD DO ONLY WHAT WAR AND PUBLIC SAFETY NEED

A plea for the freeing of railways of the United States from needless construction burdens is made by the American Railway association in a letter from its Washington headquarters today to the North Dakota state railway commission. Writing to Chairman S. J. Aandahl, the secretary of the railway association says:

"The present emergency has imposed on the railways a very unusual strain in transporting men, food, coal, munitions and materials in enormous quantities. This burden while undertaken cheerfully, requires every ounce of energy, every unit of rolling stock, every dollar of capital, every bit of supplies and coal which the railroads can command."

Construction a Hindrance.

Because of these facts the association asks that the railways be required to make improvements only when absolutely essential for year purposes of public safety, calling attention to the difficulty which is encountered in obtaining construction materials and the traffic blockade often resulting from construction operations.

Secretary J. H. Calderhead of the railway commission commented on this petition to the effect that in North Dakota there is imperative much construction work if the utmost efficiency is to be obtained from railway plants. He referred especially to stockyards, loading platforms and other installations which will aid in the quick handling of farm produce and live stock.

After Kaiser for Whom Brothers and Father Gave Lives

Seeking revenge on the Kaiser, for whom his father and three brothers have died in the great European conflict, Herman Miller, a young Baldwin farmhand, came to Bismarck yesterday, renounced allegiance to the German crown, filed his first citizenship papers with Sheriff French, and proceeded as fast as a conveyance could carry him to Ft. Lincoln to offer his services to Uncle Sam.

Miller is about 26 years old; was born in Germany, and has been in America only a few years. He was drawn in the recent draft, but as an enemy alien would not be subject to service. He wants to serve, however, and to avenge the death of his relatives, whom he feels to have been needlessly sacrificed to monarchical greed. Miller has been employed on the Jacob Spitzer farm near Baldwin, and he brought to Sheriff French yesterday a letter of introduction from I. N. Capper, the Baldwin merchant, who speaks well of the young man.

GOVERNMENT TO USE FAIRS FOR WAR PUBLICITY

Washington, D. C., July 26.—All patriotic demonstrations at the food training camps to be conducted this fall in connection with the leading fairs and expositions will be under the direction of the council of national defense.

The council will begin immediately the work of preparing standard programs to be put on at the fairs. Speeches will be an important feature. The plan is to have prominent speakers address the fairs each day on some phase of the war, emphasizing America's entrance into the war, the reason therefor and the problems to be solved before victory can be won.

The exhibit, too, will play a large part in the demonstration. An important result to come from the plan will be to enable the government to

WORK ON MERCHANT MARINE TO START SOON

Washington, D. C., July 26.—Work on America's new merchant marine, it was said today, probably will begin soon under the guidance of Edward M. Hurley, whose appointment as chairman of the shipping board to succeed William Denman, has been ratified by the senate. Mr. Hurley, who is slated for the chairmanship, was expected to attend the meeting today.

Bull Fight; Rodeo and Circus Staged in a Potato Patch

A self-respecting potato patch, the pride of Nels Lovin, was the scene last night of a Spanish bull fight, a frontier rodeo, and an all-around wild west circus, in which one large, red and very stubborn bull was the principal and star.

His bullship, one of five driven into town by William Goebel's herders, could not resist the lush green of Nels Lovin's potatoes, and ignoring the efforts of the cow-punchers, he tore down a section of fence and began a feast. After the herders had trampled down several rows of spuds in their efforts to recover the bull, Mrs. Lovin took a hand and evicted the cow-punchers.

The latter came to town and reported to Sheriff French. In the meantime, Mrs. Lovin, insisting that the damage to her potatoes be made good, called upon the police department to take charge of the bull as surety. Big Chris Martineau responded, talked prettily to the bull and beat it over the fence by a hair. Then Poundmaster Matt Clooten was called upon to do his duty. He impressed two expert ropers, mounted them on wiry ponies, and dispatched them to the scene. Mr. Bull broke one rope, tucked his head under a pony's withers and hoisted the indignant animal and his rider over the fence, where upon both ropers went away from there.

At this juncture Sheriff French, who had interviewed Mr. Goebel and had taken the latter's bond to make good the damages, hove in view with a warrant for the bull. Scenting new troubles, the bull, while the sheriff was still in the office, hoisted his tail and sailed away over the prairie.

Today he is still sailing. Mrs. Lovin wants him. William Goebel wants him. Sheriff French wants him. Among others in the same mood are Big Chris Martineau, chief of police-men, and Matt Clooten, poundmaster. He is a large bull, red, two years old, sleek, well-fed and generally behaved, but he likes his potatoes, and doesn't care for music with his meals.
